

My work with Catholic Scripture Study International as Director of International Relations often brings me into contact with many who are searching for a good Bible study, a solid and conservative Bible study, one that they can use for individual study. Since Catholic Scripture Study International is for group study only, not for individual study, I always refer these searching people to Michal Hunt's Agape Bible Study, at www.AgapeBibleStudy.com and to Dr. Scott Hahn's www.salvationhistory.com site.

Both Michal Hunt and Dr Hahn frequently quote from the works of the Fathers of the Church. Michal Hunt, in her studies, often includes references to the writings of 1st century Jewish historians like Flavius Josephus and Philo of Alexandria. Ms. Hunt also includes a mix of commentaries by sound Catholic scholars both modern and ancient in her bibliography.

I know anyone seeking truth is safe under the teaching of these two well-known writers and scholars - that the information available has been researched historically as well as using the Sacred Scripture and the Catechism of the Catholic Church.
